Information for Children and Families:

In North Yorkshire we recognise the need for services who work with children, young people, and families to offer support to children and parents who have a close family member (parent, brother, sister, child) receiving hospital care for Covid-19 (Coronavirus).

Hospitals at the best of times can be strange and frightening places for children and parents. Given the unprecedented nature of Covid-19 illness and daily information (and misinformation) circulating about the pandemic in mainstream and social media, the feelings of distress and anxiety may be heightened further.

It is therefore important that our services who work with children and families have a coordinated offer of support for parents / carers and additional children within the family household to access should they require this.

Care for children when in hospital with Covid-19

If a family member, including a child, requires hospital treatment it is important to note the following:

- all hospitals have their own visiting policy and this will be explained
- however, in order to keep patients, visitors and staff safe, all hospitals have currently restricted their visiting to one parent / carer per child (and has to be the same visitor each time). This may change as the situation demands

Care for a child when a parent / carer is in hospital with Covid-19

If a parent(s) / carer(s) are incapacitated by Covid-19, and there is nobody else within the family household who can look after a child, a designated caregiver will need to be identified – please see guidance below regarding private fostering arrangements.

There is an increasing likelihood that if both parents / carers are sick, a child may also be infected. Given Covid-19 disproportionality affects older individuals, it is strongly advised grandparents are not used as designated caregivers. Where possible, it is advised parents / carers make a care plan at the earliest opportunity for their child(ren), taking into consideration of the following:

- Who is going to look after their child(ren) and pets
- Identify nearby friends or family members who can help who are not in a high-risk group
- Designated caregiver given contact information prominently so that emergency responders can find it
- If a parent / carer has nobody to ask, requests can be made for additional support to services in North Yorkshire who work with children and families

Private Fostering Arrangements:

Private fostering is when a child or young person under 16 years old (or 18 if they have a disability) is looked after for a period of 28 days or more by someone who is not a close relative, guardian or person with parental responsibility. Close relatives include parents, step-parents, aunts, uncles and grandparents. A parent may be unable to care for their own child on a short or long-term basis and a private fostering arrangement can be a positive response from friends and the local community to a family in need of support. However, any child separated from their parents is potentially vulnerable and the local authority has a responsibility to make sure the alternative care they receive is suitable.

By law, the local authority must be told about all private fostering situations. The child's parents, private foster carers and anyone else involved in the arrangement are legally required to inform the council immediately. Once informed, the council will work in partnership with the child, parents and private foster carer to make sure that the best possible arrangements are in place for the child. This includes:

- visiting the child and private foster carer
- helping to make sure that the child's racial, cultural, linguistic and religious needs are met
- offering advice and support to the child, their parents and private foster care
